Universidad San Francisco de Quito

What's this program about?

This multidisciplinary program, organized in collaboration with La Universidad San Francisco de Quito (USFQ), is open to all majors and provides a wide variety of classes that explore the extraordinary diversity of Ecuador's natural resources, language, culture, and society. Together with Ecuadorian students, MSU participants will attend a combination of Spanish language courses designed for non-natives and regular USFQ classes taught in Spanish by USFQ faculty. Opportunities for field study and several field trips supplement the classroom experience.
